

Giving spirit to technology

Discover and extend your digital skills through our projects. There is plenty of room to grow: high-quality networking, the latest in digital technology, experience in various digital platforms, and the passion that keeps our clients inspired. Let yourself be inspired too: by giving spirit to technology while you're growing and adding exciting experience to your skillset.

Let's discover your potential together

Are you a student?

You can professionally apply what you have learned while studying to practice and get to know a successful multinational in all its facets.

Have you recently graduated?

And want to grow in digital marketing? We give you the space to put your digital skills to the test and discover potential with us that may be decisive for your future career.

We want you to get the full experience in digital marketing, however, the level of growth you want to achieve is up to you – your commitment, your motivation, and your desire to make a difference and prove yourself as a true team player. Whether in exciting projects or varied tasks, we count on your ideas and initiative.

We offer you the opportunity to work on such specialized projects such as building talent communities, event management of our highly exclusive ‘Live-Workshops' where top professionals in German-speaking countries participate. If you think that this is a good fit for you, then we would like to stay in touch with you. We’re only too happy to look to the future with talent that fits with us and inspires us: whether you are at your bachelor's, master's degree, or recently graduated, and become a full-time member of our team.

You will work closely with talent managers or executive management to create engaging content for a company's social media presence, including keeping social media channels updated and brand-focused, while seeking out new social media avenues and ways of connecting with audiences.
